Preserving Lone Fir – "One Stone at a Time"

Lone Fir Cemetery is listed on the National Register for Historic Places and is a special, sacred place that preserves Oregon's stories.

In Lone Fir we find that the story of the Bottler brothers ended when they died in the late 1800's. They were Oregon Pioneer men who were brothers, brewers, and community leaders. They were very proud of the beers they crafted. Today their Tomb at Lone Fir Cemetery is in jeopardy from neglect and decay.

The Tomb and the Bottler story shows how Oregon's brewing community supported one another then as they do today-

People like to “Drink in a Little History.” Even more so—the Oregon Brew Crew loves brewing beer, fellowship and history!

The Friends of Lone Fir Cemetery set a challenge to the Oregon Brew Crew; brew a German style beer for a chance to be recognized as a Bottler brother and brew the “Boettler Bier.” On Aug. 16th, seven Oregon Brew Crew members had a “beer brew off” at Lone Fir Cemetery. The public tasted ten specialized beers and voted for the brewer and their beer to be recognized as the Boettler Bier.

Join us Nov. 15 for a German style dinner and learn who has won the honor of creating the Boettler Bier. Proceeds of the dinner and the Boettler Bier go towards the Bottler Preservation Project.

The Boettler Bier can be purchased on Hopworks Urban Brewery's Community Tap after the event.
